

I think satellite radio is filling a need, particularly for those of us out of major metropolitan areas. We are in the vast wasteland and really need a service like this.